MIDHORANDEM FOR: Chief, Support Services Staff

SUBJECT : Recor

- : Records Program Services Provided Other Agencies
- 1. The following Records Management Services are provided by CIA to other Agencies on a continuing basis:
  - a. In June 1961 Mr. McGeorge Bundy formally asked Mr. Dulles to store some sensitive records from the National Security Council in the CIA Records Center ______ Every year since 1959 our Records Center has stored and serviced MSC records. At present we have 280 embic feet of MSC documents. The most recent action was on 19 January 1969 when three separate groups of MSC files totaling 56 boxes were sent to us by Mr. Edward W. Roberts, the current MSC Records Management Officer in the Executive Office Building.
  - cIA to Defense Intelligence Agency. The related records were transferred to DIA custody including 31 cubic feet from our Records Center. But, at that time DIA had no Vital Records storage facility and their Records Management Officer requested CIA/RMO to provide DIA with secure storage space for 5 cubic feet of these vital records. They are still in our storage.
  - Since 1963 the National Archives and Records Service, CSA, has regularly requested to address their Records Management Seminars five times a year. They consider him to be an outstanding authority on the Federal Vital Records Program. Similarly the National Security Agency has had him make three presentations at their Fort Meade Headquarters since 1965. Likewise, these speeches on emergency records planning have resulted in the current invitations to have him speak in New York in May 1969 at the Management Conference of Records Executives and in February 1969 at an American University Symposium.

- 2. In August 1964 the General Services Administration, National Archives and Records Service, requested the cooperation of all Agencies to fund a National Bureau of Standards analysis of microfilm blemishes. Mr. Kirkpatrick authorized an Agency contribution of $5,000 to the fund and this was done. This year they again have requested our participation in funding a similar analysis of paper products used for communications. They have found too many valuable World Wer II records disintegrating in the films. We may cooperate in this study as in the past.
- 3. Besides the foregoing regular support activities the mambers of the Agency Records Program are pariodically called upon by Records Managers in other Agencies for assistance or comments on various developments such as publications and training programs. Recent requests for review and comment involved the latest did Workshop on designing "Forms for Automation", the Bureau of Standards manual amprinting requirements for Optioni Scanning forms, and the National Archives manual on Federal Correspondence.

He sees considerable work remaining in both areas. I see it inevitable that we From him push for an Archives function somewhere in the Agency. It is an alternative to the storage plan which can remove about 45,000 cu. ft. (15,000 would be screened out and destroyed. 30,000 moved into the Archives.
